Option 1: Save the STEP File Directly (Recommended)

2. Right-click the STEP File link.
3. Select “Save link as...” from the context menu.
4. Choose your preferred destination folder and click “Save.”

Option 2: Save a STEP File That Opens in Your Browser

If the STEP file opens in your browser as a page containing text instead of downloading automatically, follow these steps:

1. Right-click anywhere on the page containing the STEP file data.
2. Select “Save as...” from the context menu.
3. In the Save dialog box, select “All files (.*)” under “Save as type.”
4. Make sure the filename retains its original .STEP extension. If your browser has added .txt, remove that extension.
5. Choose your preferred destination folder and click “Save.”

See Figures 2.1 and 2.2 below.

Important Note: Compressed STEP Files

Some STEP files are provided as ZIP archives due to their large file sizes.

These files may download automatically when you click the corresponding link.

If this happens:

1. Check your Downloads folder.
2. Locate the downloaded ZIP archive.
3. Extract the archive to access the STEP file.

Tip: Make sure the downloaded STEP file retains its correct file extension (.STEP or .STP) so that it can be opened in compatible CAD software.
